Annual Conference

Provision of Community-Based Health Services An Evidence-Based Approach

Wednesday 24th Sept 2008, Norfolk Park Heritage Centre, Sheffield

This year's conference focuses on two major research projects:

Dr Susan Nancarrow's project examines the impact of different models of staffing on the outcomes of community-based services for older people, covering patient, staff and service-related issues.

Prof Pam Enderby's project: Enhancing the effectiveness of interprofessional working: cost and outcomes looks at developing a good practice model to support interprofessional working in community based therapy teams. See website for more details.

Both projects are three year projects funded by the National Institute of Health Research, Service Delivery and Organisation Programme (SDO)

Workshop

Building Your Business Case in Community Rehabilitation

Tuesday 23rd Sept 2008, Norfolk Park Heritage Centre, Sheffield

11:00 - 16:30

This hands-on workshop aims to teach you the essential steps of developing a business case to support your rehabilitation service within the new commissioning environment. It will focus on explaining the various thought processes needed to help you and your colleagues build a sound business case.

Each team will be given time to prepare a 10 minute "pitch" during which they will present their business case. Help will be at hand to develop your presentations. On completing your pitch, each team will be given feedback.

Understand the commissioning process • Synthesise evidence to support the business case
Detail unique contribution • Accurately budget for cost effectiveness • Risks and benefits • Demonstrate improved outcomes

Workshop Facilitators:

Daniel Mason, Strategy Manager, Sheffield PCT
Dr Malcolm Whitfield, Director of Health Policy & Management,
School of Health and Related Research, University of Sheffield

Those attending both the Annual Conference and the Workshop will receive a discount of 20% off the full registration fee.
